VOLUME 4 ISSUE 10

DECEMBER 1990

From Francis:

I love walking and being in nature - especially I enjoy watching birds and adding to my lifetime list of different species seen (I've spotted about 450 species in the U.S. alone). No surprise then that one of the passages of Scripture that has always touched me is Isaiah 11:6-9, the portrayal of the "Peaceable Kingdom" that so attracted the early Quakers:

" The wolf will live with the lamb,
the panther lie down with the kid,
calf, lion and fat-stock beast together,
with a little boy to lead them.

The cow and the bear will graze,
their young will lie down together.

The lion will eat hay like the ox.

The infant will play over the den of the adder;
the baby will put his hand into the viper's lair.

No hurt, no harm will be done on all my holy mountain ... "

Since Isaiah is the prophet most quoted in preparation for Christmas (in the Church's Advent calendar and in Handel's Messiah) I try to read Isaiah every year in the dark days of December. This year I discovered a short commentary concerning this beautiful passage about the wolf lying down with the lamb: Isaiah 11 is a prophecy that when the Messiah comes to bring peace on earth, that peace will be shared by all of nature. All of nature will be reconciled with us, after we are reconciled with God and with one another! Our rebellion against God broke the harmony between us and nature (Genesis 3). Nature's disorder and the disasters that follow (such as earthquakes and disease) are punishments reflecting our sin.

The kingdom of God, heralded by Jesus Christ will result first of all in our reconciliation with God, but then in our reconciliation with all of God's marvelous creation. "This peace will extend to the animal kingdom, even to the snake which was responsible for the first fault. Here the Messianic age is symbolically described as a return to the peace of Eden" (footnote to Is. 11:6 in the New Jerusalem Bible).

The current movement, then, to be environmentally sensitive is, deep down a movement towards the restoration of all things in Jesus Christ.

Lambs and donkeys and cows and stars-out-of-the-East — all gathered around the crib at Christmas is a touching echo of Isaiah where the wolf and the lamb mysteriously become friends, a lion eats hay, and a baby puts a hand, unafraid, into the snake's den.

With joy, we and all the staff of CHM
wish you all the peace that Christmas can bring!

INTERCESSORS REPORT

PRAISE REPORTS

In October I received a wonderful deliverance from depression, grief, and anxiety. Thank you for your prayers. CHM prayed for me last November and December.

Thanksgiving for healing of Jason, a seven year old with lung and bone cancer. Had surgery to remove his leg and hip and 13 tumors from his lungs. In two weeks and one day he came back to his first grade class to visit-- feeling and looking great. His mother said surgery went beautifully, that he spent a very brief time in recovery room and has been doing well ever since. He will return to the hospital this month to have surgery on the other lung. I know that your prayers have made a difference.

Mary was healed of M. S. in 1980 - partially through Francis MacNutt's book on healing as I came to understand our Lord's desire for wholeness and healing for his children and His love for us.

Thank you for your prayers, the Lord has delivered me from a great deal of job-related stress.

My son Michael has stopped drinking, and is going back to the Spirit now that he's free of "the spirit". Also my ex husband is understanding and supporting our daughter more than ever before. I have been healed surgically again. I am grateful to God for answered prayer.

Healing for the boy that fell in the vat of lye--a miracle! I have been praying the Deliverance prayer daily. This morning I was saved from a serious accident, I'm sure the deliverance prayer helped.

Thank you for your praise reports...and support!!

Merry Christmas, Love and Blessings to all of you!!

Joy Lamb
