

HOW I CHANGED MY ECUMENICAL APPROACH

by Francis MacNutt

I will share this very embarrassing story of my approach to Christians of other denominations only because I suspect that some of you have gone through this same transformation. It's hard to admit how wrong I was and, all the while, thinking I was so right.

I grew up in the Catholic Church years ago — long before the Second Vatican Council (I'm now 81 years old). Even though I never attended a Roman Catholic grade school or high school, I had learned that the Catholic Church was the one true church and every essential Christian truth was already there. Protestants were to be loved as individuals, but their churches were only founded because of their attachment to some error or due to a spirit of revolt. It was wise to stay away from Protestants, because, unless you knew more theology than most of us did, you could be led astray.

Much emotion was injected into the issue of separation because of our ethnic history. Those of us with Irish blood in our veins knew something about the history of English soldiers (Cromwell) killing and massacring Catholics in Ireland and of priests being hanged, drawn, and quartered during Elizabethan times, just for the simple reason that they were priests. We thought that the reason Thomas More, the High Chancellor of England, had his head chopped off was because he would not say "yes" to Henry VIII founding a new church so he could marry Anne Boleyn. Standing up for your church was not only a question of truth but it meant being loyal to your ancestors and to your family. To deny your faith was like being a traitor.

Another area of division was the working of healing miracles, which was meant to attest to the truth of Christianity as taught by the Church.

Even now I remember reading in the seminary in our text on ecclesiology (De Ecclesia by Paris) that Protestants could not work miracles of healing, because miracles are meant only to attest to truth, and they could not give witness to the error that was to be found in Protestant churches. (This teaching about miracles was only printed in a footnote and not in the main text, because teaching about healing was not a major topic in a text on the Church.)

After my ordination, when I was teaching homiletics (preaching) in our seminary in Dubuque, IA, I took to visiting the Presbyterian Seminary in Dubuque (c.1960), because I realized that Protestants spent more time on their sermons and had much to teach us. Such fraternization with Protestants was seen by some of the older men on our faculty, who were from Boston, as distinctly dangerous and I was viewed by some with suspicion because I had grown up in a non-Catholic environment.

Then came the baptism in the Spirit in 1967. I had met several Protestants through my preaching contacts and they told me about what had happened when they were baptized in the Spirit. They told me some amazing personal stories about healings they had seen. I recognized that their teachings and experiences corresponded to what I had read about in the lives of the saints in the early centuries of Catholic history and I was fascinated. When I was offered a scholarship to a Protestant camp in Tennessee, I decided that I needed to go and see for myself what they were talking about.

There were 700 people at that camp and I immediately realized that this group were truly dedicated Christians who knew Jesus and loved him — perhaps more than I did. I was amazed to see that this large group of people were living up to what we Catholics believed to be an ideal. I was a priest in the Dominican Order and St. Dominic, our ideal model, was said to spend his time either “talking to God or talking about God.” Here was a group of 700 who were doing just that. It was coming right out of their hearts.

These people who prayed for the sick and saw them healed and who spoke so naturally about God ascribed all of this to their baptism in the Spirit. Of course, in the Catholic Church, we believed in the Spirit and even had a feast of Pentecost to celebrate when the Spirit descended upon Peter and the first 3000 Christians to be empowered by the Spirit. We believed in all those things. We believed in healing and we believed in Pentecost, but we had narrowed it down, so that only occasionally would someone be healed. I certainly did not expect healing through my prayers. We certainly believed in Pentecost, but we didn’t think that the manifestations that happened to Peter and the other apostles on that first Pentecost would ever happen to us personally. It was enough to believe in it and we felt like true believers in comparison to those Protestants who followed Bultmann in “demythologizing” the Gospels.

To meet Protestants who were actually experiencing the supernatural gifts that I believed in was a mighty experience. It radically shifted my attitude towards Protestants. I found that, instead of expecting error and criticizing it when I met Protestants, I might instead expect to find some truth (which had perhaps led them to separate from their various churches). Instead of error, I should look for truth and then bring it back to my church — and these weren’t small truths. I wasn’t fellowshiping with Protestants simply because they sang better than most Catholics, nor just because the sermon was more central to their worship and I could learn a lot about preaching from them.

What I could learn was at the very heart of the Christian faith. I needed to humble myself and change things around so that I wasn’t simply defending and praising the Catholic Church. I had to take the risk of bringing out what was missing in my own church. If enough of us discovered these truths and shared them, perhaps the Catholic Church might change and, eventually, we would all believe the same things ◆ and there would no longer be a reason for separation!

And that’s the way it has been. I believe that Protestants can find valuable truths in the Catholic tradition, but I also openly celebrate that I discovered great and essential truths from my Protestant brothers and sisters:

- ◆ I discovered about the reality of healing from a member of the Church of the Brethren — and her rediscovery could be traced back to Azusa Street and the Pentecostal churches.
- ◆ I discovered the great need for the baptism in the Holy Spirit from Agnes Sanford (an Episcopalian), from Tommy Tyson (a Methodist evangelist) and from David Wilkerson’s books (Assemblies of God).
- ◆ Then I found out soon afterwards about deliverance from evil spirits from Don Basham and Derek Prince (non-denominational Pentecostals).

Announcing the Plan for a New Healing Center

On behalf of Christian Healing Ministries, I am delighted to announce that we have plans to build a new healing center! Not only do we have plans, but they are already set in motion, and we hope that you can take part in them.

As you probably know, we have long outgrown the facility we have occupied for nearly 20 years and our staff of 18 is faithfully doing their work in crowded rooms. Our need for a new facility does not simply come from having grown in numbers, though: our desire for a new facility comes from the larger vision of what we believe God wants to accomplish through CHM. We believe that Jesus has given us this vision and now it's up to us to do all we can to help make it happen.

We already have gathered a gifted capital campaign committee, headed by CHM Board member Jim Francis and we encourage you to contribute to CHM in order to make this large vision become a reality!

Love in Christ,

Francis and Judith

Please note: If you are able to monetarily contribute to this campaign, please designate "New Healing Center" on the memo line of your check.

A Sign of the Future Church

At our leaders' conference in Denver last October, a priest told us the encouraging news that a priest on the faculty at the seminary there teaches the students about healing prayer and uses two of my books as texts. Hopefully, this is a sign of the future church, returning to the early tradition of the church when healing prayer was the norm!

"I read your original Healing book when it first came out. Then I saw you at a conference in south Florida. I was having asthma. You told me where it comes from (uncried tears), laid hands on me, and said a simple prayer. I was healed. That was many years ago."

School of Healing Prayer for Leaders

We have such high hopes that marvelous things will take place at this school that we are offering scholarships for many registrants. If you would like to contribute to this tax deductible fund, please earmark your donation for the ICCRS fund.

Alumni Network

For several years, we have been working on putting together a program known as the Alumni Network. The Alumni Network has been created to link together the CHM graduates that have attended any of the levels of the School of Healing Prayer on or off the CHM campus, as well as the Emerging Leaders in Healing, for the purpose of encouraging and connecting one another in the healing ministry. If you have taken the SHP Level I, II, or III off campus, we do require a letter of verification from the instructor, church or ministry from which you received the training.

What are the benefits of the Alumni Network?

- The Network provides a greater level of communication among graduates.
- All members will receive special teachings that will encourage their spiritual growth and ministries.
- Alumni have the opportunity to communicate directly with fellow alumni via the online forum.
- As soon as we have our database updated with current contact information for all alumni, each registered member will receive a printed copy of our Alumni Directory, which will provide you with contact information for fellow alumni from around the world.

We hope to have this published shortly after the first of the year.

- Each member will receive a copy of the alumni newsletter, Branches, which we hope to publish on a monthly basis.
- All registered alumni receive a 10% discount off any purchase made in the Bookstore.

To register for CHM's Alumni Network, please visit our website at <http://www.christianhealingmin.org/alumni.htm> or contact Mary Kleist at (904) 765-3332 to request a registration form by mail.

Harold Bradeson

We just received news that the well-known pioneer in charismatic renewal, Harold Bradeson, has recently died. Much of John Sherrill's famous book, They Speak With Other Tongues (Chosen Books), is devoted to remarkable stories about Harold's boldness in bringing the gift of tongues back into common Christian usage.

Walking in the Gifts of Healings

by Anne Early

Intercessory Prayer Coordinator.

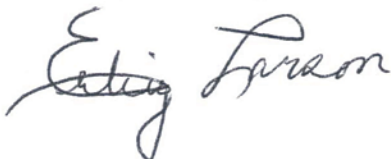

Erling Larson, one of the special people who serves on the team of prayer ministers at CHM, is a retired physician — retired from his busy medical career as an internist, but still very active in God's healing. While working for 45 years as a medical doctor, Erling facilitated God's healing of his patients through medicine and prayer; now he relies totally on the Holy Spirit to heal those with whom he prays.

Testimony of a Retired Physician, Active CHM Prayer Minister

*I gradually retired from active practice as an internist, going into semi-retirement after 45 years of practicing medicine full time. While in semi-retirement, one of my patients, who was an alcoholic*, called me to say he had been free for three years with not one drink of alcohol. When I asked him how he had done it, I expected him to say "through AA," but he didn't; he said he had done it through Christian Healing Ministries (CHM). Then he added, "Do you want to hear more about it?" Of course I said "yes," and he proceeded to tell me how he had gone to CHM for prayer to break the habit, and it had worked. He got my attention.*

I went to CHM for training as a prayer minister. After the last class, I went home and prayed about what I should do in retirement. While I was praying, the phone rang. It was a call from CHM, asking me to serve as a prayer minister. I said, "Lord, that was too fast!"

Since receiving that phone call seven-and-a-half years ago, I have served as a prayer minister every Thursday and have tithed my time by praying in the 3-Day Intensive Prayer Ministry that is held each month. This has been a wonderfully fulfilling time in my life. The age of miracles is not over!

**This wonderful man, whose testimony inspired me, has remained sober for more than ten years and is serving as a prayer minister in another city.*

Erling showed me a note he had received a few days ago from this friend and former patient, in which mention was made of a mutual friend of theirs, a Roman Catholic priest who was also a former patient of Erling's office and was doing well. Erling related that 20 years ago, the priest who was mentioned had suffered 4th-stage colon cancer. Erling had stood beside the operating table as a surgeon opened the man's abdomen to find massive amounts of malignant tissue. Erling told me, "I saw the inside of his belly. It was covered with malignancy. The surgeon removed what he could and sewed him up." Sometime later, the patient called to say he had been healed during Mass. He submitted to a second operation, and when he was opened again, there was not a trace of malignancy. Erling said to me, "I saw that; all the malignancy was gone! God had healed him."

Special Opportunity for Physicians

Anyone who cares for others, such as those in the medical field, must be diligent about making sure their own needs are met on a regular basis, so that they are not giving out of emptiness. Physicians are often prone to neglecting themselves in the face of caring for so many.

On July 16-19, we will be offering a special Day of Healing Prayer and Intensive Prayer Ministry session meant to meet the needs of physicians. If you are a physician in need of some down time, prayer, teaching, and encouragement, join us and receive four days of personal ministry, including a generational healing service, soaking prayer, and individual prayer appointments. If you know a physician who would benefit from this time of ministry, please notify him or her of this opportunity and encourage him or her to attend.

To make a reservation or to indicate your interest in receiving this ministry, please contact Neona Daugherty at nfd@christianhealingmin.org or (904) 765-3332 ext. 216. Physicians reply by March 19, at which time registration will be open to general public. There is a registration fee of $250.00.

No sooner had we received Erling's testimony than the following "praise report" arrived: another testimony to the healing power of the Holy Spirit and to Erling's dedication as a CHM prayer minister.

Several months ago as I was opening the front door of my car, which was parked in my yard, I became the victim of an attempted armed robbery. Impulsively, I pushed against the perpetrator's chest, and he walked away. Later that week I noticed that two fingers on my right hand, the hand I had used to push the robber away, were very swollen at the joints; I could not close my fingers into a fist. That condition continued for approximately three weeks before I went to Christian Healing Ministries for prayer. Thinking that perhaps the swelling was due to an arthritic condition, I asked the prayer ministers to pray for the swollen joints. The swelling did not subside and I still could not close my fingers.

The next time I met with the prayer ministers, one of whom was Erling, they were able to trace the cause of the swelling and finger rigidity to fear that I had felt every time I opened the front door of my home to go to my car. The memory of the attempted robbery had allowed a spirit of fear to creep in and take hold. Through prayer we were able to get rid of the fear, replacing it with confidence of living in the strength and protection of Jesus.

The swelling is gone, and I can close my fingers to make a fist.

"God has not given us a spirit of fear . . ." (2 Tim. 1:7)

Dear Friends,

Please come and take part in an historic, international conference on the Power of the Holy Spirit, planned by an extraordinary partnership of

- the International Catholic Charismatic Renewal Services, (the Vatican office in Rome, Italy)
- and co-sponsored by Christian Healing Ministries, of Jacksonville, Florida, together with the National Service Committee of the United States, Washington, D.C.
- to be held at the Wyndham Hotel, on the Riverwalk, in Jacksonville, Florida, from April 30-May 5, 2007.

Our hope is that every participant will be powerfully touched by the spirit and will come away with an enlarged vision of what Jesus came to bring his Church. Not only will you hear presentations on how the charismatic renewal embodies the depth of Roman Catholic tradition*, but we intend to “do the stuff” and pray that God will transform our lives. The presentations will concentrate on:

- intimacy with Jesus
- the baptism in the spirit
- the charismatic gifts, with a special emphasis on spiritual, emotional and bodily healing.

You will be given the opportunity to receive prayer, both in a group setting and individually (from CHM's trained prayer ministers).

Our internationally-known speakers will be:

Francis MacNutt and Judith MacNutt,
Barbara Shlemon, Rev. Don Williams and Rev. Mike Evans
(with Bishop Galeone celebrating the opening Mass)

Over the past 40 years, 150 million Christians have joyfully experienced the baptism in the spirit. But most of us realize that a plateau has been reached, with many not sure where to go after that key event. This conference intends to help charismatics move on to the next stage, especially by equipping them to pray for the sick and broken-hearted. As St. Irenaeus proclaimed: “The glory of God is a person fully alive!”

Love,

Francis and Judith

* Since this conference has been requested by the International Catholic Renewal Center in Rome, the content of the talks and the liturgy will be Catholic in focus. On the other hand, CHM has always been ecumenical and we want to make sure that all Christians are welcome to attend. The meeting itself will be an opportunity for healing and reconciliation among all those who can come.

We invite you to attend

Many Pentecostals Don't Pray in Tongues

by Francis MacNutt

An encouraging finding of a recent ten-nation survey is that Pentecostal and charismatic churches are growing at an amazing rate, and at least a quarter of the world's two billion Christians now embrace Pentecostalism. Dr. Vinson Synan notes that, historically, churches that embrace tongues have grown larger than those churches that rejected it. For example, the "Assemblies of God" has ten times as many members as the "Christian and Missionary Alliance," which took a "seek not, forbid not" position on tongues.

Traditionally, Pentecostals have taught that praying in tongues was the initial evidence that people have really been baptized in the Spirit, but a new finding is that today most Pentecostals do not pray in tongues! The Pew Forum on Religion and Public Life finds that in six out of ten countries studied, at least 40% of Pentecostals said they never pray in tongues. In the U.S., 49% of Pentecostals report that they don't pray in tongues. Among "charismatics,"<sup>1</sup> that figure is 32%.

Now, healing prayer has become a more common practice among Pentecostals than praying in tongues, while some charismatic leaders no longer consider praying in tongues as an essential sign that someone has been baptized in the Spirit. Nevertheless, the three major Pentecostal denominations (Assemblies of God, Church of God in Christ, and Foursquare Gospel) still consider tongues as the "initial evidence." Foursquare President Jack Hayford said that no matter where theologians fall on the initial evidence debate, if tongues is not practiced, there is no reason to label the movement "Pentecostal." He also says that some Pentecostals don't realize the practical value of tongues, which leads to spiritual enablement beyond our natural capacity. The fascinating finding is that divine healing is now more commonly practiced than praying in tongues!<sup>2</sup>

(Footnotes)

<sup>1</sup> "Pentecostals" are those who belong to churches that were founded due to the rediscovery of the "baptism in the Holy Spirit" and exercise of the charismatic gifts, such as healing. "Charismatics" are those members of the established churches who remain within their churches, but have experienced the baptism in the Holy Spirit.

So it went: I learned so much from all kinds of Protestant friends. Happily, I was also able to find all these elements of Pentecostal truth in the history of my own tradition and so be able to point out to critics that I was not a rebel, but was really a traditionalist who was going back to our common beginning.

MacNutt is communicating a desperately needed and passionate prophetic call.

The Rev. Jack W. Hayford, President, Foursquare Church International.

An engaging, conversational glimpse — through interviews with family, friends and professional colleagues — of the remarkable life and ministry of Francis MacNutt

Francis is a native of St. Louis, Missouri. His education in pre-med was interrupted when he was called to serve in World War II as an army surgical technician. He later graduated from Harvard University, then earned a master's degree from Catholic University of America. After joining the Dominican Order, he earned a Ph.D. in theology and, in 1956, was ordained a priest. Francis' life and ministry took an extraordinary turn in 1967, when he was baptized with the Holy Spirit and began to realize the magnitude of God's transforming, healing power.

Francis' passion for the healing ministry has continued for four decades and has re-kindled faith for healing among countless Christians. The work he began as a Roman Catholic priest, leading healing teams and addressing large gatherings in over 30 countries on five continents, has continued with unflagging zeal.

After meeting in Jerusalem, Francis married Judith Sewell in 1980, and together they founded Christian Healing Ministries in Clearwater, Florida. This international ministry, now located in Jacksonville, Florida, models a balanced, biblical approach to healing prayer.

In 1974, Francis wrote Healing (considered a classic on healing prayer), which has sold almost a million copies in the United States alone. He has also written six other books on healing—the most recent—The Healing Reawakening. He and Judith co-authored Praying for your Unborn Child. His books are sold world-wide and have been translated into sixteen languages.

Hope, Humor, and Healing after Cancer

by Lynn Eib

Coping with cancer is sometimes more difficult after treatment than during it. You're left with many questions, and few people really understand survivors' unique needs.

With her trademark humor and straight talk, cancer patient advocate Lynn Eib takes on the tough questions cancer survivors often ask themselves yet rarely speak aloud: What if the cancer comes back? Is everyone as paranoid as I am? Will life ever be normal again? How do I stay positive?

Lynn weaves the story of her own experiences as a longtime cancer survivor and those of other cancer survivors into this hope-filled book. In these inspiring accounts, you'll discover how God can help you move out from the shadow of uncertainty that often lingers over cancer survivors and their families and find renewed purpose and joy.

Prayers that Rout Demons

by John Eckhardt

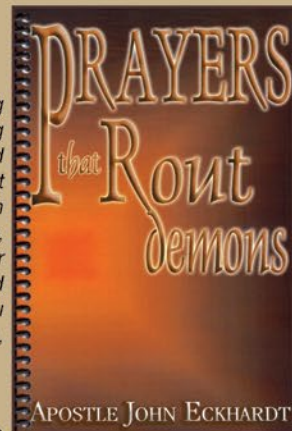

*This book deals with remedies for overthrowing the powers of darkness, principalities, breaking curses on your land, and the same prayers could be used for your city. Also, these prayers will get the dark areas out of your life so that God can use you in greater ways. ## The Prayer That Heals

by Francis MacNutt

This book teaches people how to pray at home for healing of family members. Says Dr. MacNutt, "Praying together at home is such a beautiful experience—and so easy to learn—that the present bleak record (of broken families) could easily be improved if people were taught and 'given permission' to try. . . I hope Christian families will experience the joy of praying together."

Also available on audio cassette or cd.

Overcome by the Spirit

by Francis MacNutt

In the 1960's and '70's, when Dr. MacNutt first witnessed being "slain in the Spirit," he did not know what to think. Then, it started happening in his own healing ministry. Through extensive research, he learned that this phenomenon was not new at all; it had occurred throughout Church history. With Biblically informed wisdom and sensitivity, Dr. MacNutt tackles every conceivable question and concern about this controversial issue, including: Isn't it just the power of suggestion? What are the spiritual benefits, if any? How good can something be that causes division and controversy?

The Healing Reawakening

Previously titled The Nearly Perfect Crime

by Francis MacNutt

Although the main method leading to the conversion of the Roman Empire during the early years of Christianity lay in dramatically healing the sick and casting out evil spirits, the belief in supernatural healing nearly disappeared from mainline churches during the following centuries.

How did something so central to Jesus' own heart, something so essential to the spreading of the Gospel, nearly disappear? Join Francis as he explores this fascinating question.
